Washington News, Understanding Vaccination Order Choice

AIR DATE: JAN 20 2021 • HEARD ON CENTRAL TIME

On inauguration day, we discuss the incoming leaders of the country and what Congress is working on in the meantime. And a philosophical scholar helps us think about the decision-making process when it comes to picking an order in which to vaccinate people for COVID-19.

How Do You Decide Who Gets A Potentially Life-Saving Vaccine First?

Listen

Some Wisconsin grocers are concerned that their employees aren't on the priority list to receive COVID vaccines, since they interact with the public daily and perform an essential service. Our guest explains how policymakers decide who to prioritize when it comes to matters of life and death.
